

IVR Japan International Workshop (IVRJW 2020)

21 November 2020

3:00-3:15 PM in JST
Opening Session
Chair: Makoto Usami, President, IVR Japan
Susumu Morimura, President, Japanese Association for Legal Philosophy Welcome Address
Hirohide Takikawa, Executive Committee Member, IVR Welcome Address
	A	B	C	D
	3:20-4:50 PM in JST
1	Session 1-A Human Dignity and the Rule of Law	Session 1-B Legal Interpretation	Session 1-C Analytic Approaches to Action and Distribution	Session 1-D Immigration, Migration, and Discrimination
	Chair: Hirohide Takikawa	Chair: Seow Hon Tan	Chair: Kotaro Yonemura	Chair: Jakub Łakomy
	Jimmy Chia-Shin Hsu Human Dignity as a Legal Transplant in Asia	Katsuaki Hayase Intent of Lawmaker and Meaning of Article	Anders Herlitz Fixing Stakes in Distributive Theory	Mauro Zamboni Legislation in a Welfare State and the Challenges from Migration
	Wei Feng Human Dignity, Personality, and Constitutional Review. Strong Normativity without Metaphysics?	Alessio Sardo Originalism and Legal Positivism: A Peculiar Connection	Samuel Kahn A Problem for Frankfurt Examples	Yuichiro Mori The Diversity of Objections to Racial Discrimination in Immigration
	Elena Prats The Value of Values: The Introduction of Arbitrariness by Citizenship by Investment Programmes as an Erosion Factor of the Rule of Law	Magdalena Wojdala The Application of Empirical Research to Judicial Opinions	Dai Oba Defending Approximation: A Default Strategy of Action Guidance in the Real World	Sania Ismailee Collective Exemptions: Shifting Focus from Group to Discrimination
	5:00-6:30 PM in JST
2	Session 2-A Rule, Justice, and Retribution	Session 2-B Queer Theories and Realities	Session 2-C Kelsen	Session 2-D East Asian Legal and Political Philosophy
	Chair: Jimmy Chia-Shin Hsu	Chair: Samuel Kahn	Chair: Anders Herlitz	Chair: Mauro Zamboni
	Marco Mazzocca The Impact of Events on Constitutive Rules	Miroslav Imbrisevic Do Transwomen Athletes Have a (Human) Right to Compete in the Female Category?	Matheus Pelegrino da Silva The Connection between Causality, Value Judgements and Justice in Kelsen's Thought	Baldwin Wong "Those Smart Guys Will Decide"—On the Problem of Estrangement in Confucian Meritocracy
	Xi Zhang The Sense of Justice in the Criminal Justice: A Philosophical Inquiry from the Relational Perspective	Matthew Turyn The Need for Epistemic First-Person Authority	Keisuke Kondo Standing on the Shoulders of Giants: Kelsen, Hart and Global Legal Pluralism	Akihiko Morita An East Asian Challenge for "Third Wave" Human Rights
	Kumie Hattori Is Intergenerational Retributive Justice Possible?	Kuan-Ting Chen Is Public Reason Stable Here? A Reflection through the Experience of "Same-Sex Marriage" Debates in Taiwan	Monika Zalewska The Supervenience as the Link between Is and Ought in Hans Kelsen's General Theory of Norms	Ondřej Benc The Chinese Legal Philosophy: A Western Comparison
	6:40-8:10 PM in JST
3	Session 3-A Ethics of Ruling	Session 3-B State, Law, and Lawyers	Session 3-C Philosophical Legacy	Session 3-D Latin American Legal Systems
	Chair: Monika Zalewska	Chair: Miroslav Imbrisevic	Chair: Matheus Pelegrino da Silva	Chair: Michihiro Kaino
	Alfonso Ballesteros Digitocracy: Ruling and Being Ruled	Jan Winczorek and Karol Muszyński Towards Uncertainty-embracing Concept of Law	Seow Hon Tan Radbruch's Formula Revisited: The 'Lex Injusta Non Est Lex' Maxim in Constitutional Democracies	Denis De Castro Halis, Rafael Mario Iorio Filho and Fernanda Duarte Virtues and Risks of Digitalization Processes in the Judiciary: Lessons from Brazil
	Sho Kosuda Representing Future Generations through Claim and Deliberation	Jakub Łakomy and Przemysław Kaczmarek Criticism of the Standard Conception of the Role of a Lawyer from the Political and Ethical Perspective	Hideharu Takahashi On Rousseau's General Will: In View of the Applicability of Condorcet's Jury Theorem	Helga Lell The Concept of Person in the Argentinean Legal System. Ideas from Three Historical Stages
	Fumihiko Misaki Separation of Powers beyond State Theory	Gen Fukushima The State's Right to Rule and Theories of Rights	Katsuhiko Ito The Scheme of Concept/Conception and Frege's Framework in Legal Philosophy	